To whomsoever it may concern

I want to express my appreciation for Saanya Anand, a 12th-grade student of Vasant Valley School who has supported CEHRO India on various occasions over the past two years and has selflessly given her time to work with the children here with utmost passion and energy.

Centre for Education and Health Research Organization (CEHRO) is a Delhi-based non-profit that works with migrant children from Munirka Village and nearby slums. We are a community-based organization that strives to improve the conditions of the underserved people of this area by providing them access to better education, healthcare, and employment opportunities.

On multiple occasions, Saanya has engaged with primary school children in Munirka Village as a part of our educational initiatives and has facilitated daylong sessions on health and hygiene, among other important matters. During Diwali, she showed innovation and leadership by planning and coordinating sessions involving Diya making for the children so that they could celebrate with joy. She also campaigned to donate bicycles to the children at the Munirka Center.

It was delightful to see someone so young show such compassion towards underprivileged communities. Saanya genuinely strives to make a difference and she generates a lot of positive energy among the children, while simultaneously motivating them to learn. I have no doubts that she will continue her efforts in the years to come. I wish her well in her future endeavors.

Sincerely,

Surjeet Singh
